

Of First Importance
1 Corinthians 15:1-5
February 23, 2020

Our lives consist of many things, activities, and people, some of which are much more important to us than others. One key to living well is to actually make the most important matters most important. The same is true in the all-important matter of Christianity. To live well in Christ we must place a premium in fact on the things God says are most important. Today we consider the message of first importance in Christianity.

An Overview of the Good News about Jesus

This message is the gospel (vv. 1, 11)

This message is to be received (v. 1)

We are to take our stand in the gospel (v. 1)

This is the message by which we are being saved (v. 2), because Christ died for our sins (v. 3)

This is the message of first importance in Christianity (v. 3)
