

A Few Thoughts from a Shepherd

In his letter to the Philippians, the Apostle Paul shares some thoughts about what our attitudes should be. Among other things, he says that we should be servants of others, not seeking glory for ourselves, but rather be humble and totally obedient.

By having these attitudes, we will be rewarded. The rewards happen both here in our daily lives as well as in our eternal lives. The rewards manifest themselves in our hearts by giving us happiness and love for each other and for Christ, even in times of worldly stress. The rewards help us to be good, kind and patient with others and to not get out of control. In short, these attitudes help us to be faithful and loving. These attitudes also have eternal implications. As part of God's family, we have a tremendous inheritance that is far beyond anything that we could possibly ask or imagine.

It is my prayer that everyone would have the same attitude as Christ; a servant who is humble and totally obedient. May God's love, the Grace of Christ and fellowship through His Spirit be with you all.

Blessings, David Teague

Prayer Requests:

- ◆ Quinn Britt—He is having a cardioversion Friday noon. We are asking for prayers that it goes smoothly and fixes his heart rate and a-flutter for good. Pray for the wound pain, anxiousness and frustration that he is feeling.
- ◆ Loucretia Fletcher—Pray for she and Jerry.
- ◆ Norma Medina—Please pray for the family of Antonia Ramirez Ramos, my aunt, that passed away yesterday. Pray for comfort and peace during this difficult time. My brother's grandkids are doing better and my cousin was released from the hospital.
- ◆ Barbara Woods—Praise! Jill (her daughter) has given birth to a bouncing baby boy, Colton Wayne Leach. He was born pre term but all is well.
- ◆ Dorothy Johnson—For the family of Darlene Farmer, my sister. Harold, Darlene's husband, passed away last Thursday in San Angelo. Pray for them to find peace during this difficult time and keep the wonderful memories close to their hearts.
- ◆ Praise! Alexa and Andrew Frei were baptized last Sunday evening.

Praying for Quinn Britt

Cody Britt, Quinn and Sheila Britt's son has asked us to share with the members at NW 1) anyone wanting to join them for prayer for Quinn can meet them at 8pm on top of parking garage at North Central Baptist Hospital Stoneoak every night and 2) how grateful they are for NW's prayers, encouragement and support. Once Quinn has moved to the rehab, they will continue there and we will let you know where that is located. All are welcome and encouraged to participate.
